Bullet Grazes Head But Prelate Pluckily Continues Service.

Harbor Grace, N. F., Oct. 19.—While conducting mass today Bishop March, a Roman Catholic prelate, was fired upon by James Hare, believed to be insane. One shot grazed the head of the bishop, wounding him slightly, while another bullet buried itself in the altar.

Hare had been sitting quietly in his seat during the service when without warning he jumped up suddenly, drew a revolver, and began shooting at the bishop. He had fired twice before several powerful fishermen seated near him rushed forward and clutched the arm, taking away the weapon and overpowering him. Later Hare was placed under arrest and locked up.

In spite of his injury Bishop March continued the service as if nothing had happened after a physician had bound up his head.

OUR NAVY YARD.

Interesting Pamphlet Issued for Distribution in Washington.

The Navy Yard at Portsmouth is the title of an interesting pamphlet just issued by F. W. Hartford, editor of the Portsmouth Herald. It contains in full the report of the board of inspection who recently visited this yard and were loud in its praise of its fine buildings and modern equipment. There is a profuse illustration of the shops, storehouses, water front, piers and dry dock. The book also contains much valuable data concerning the many advantages possessed by the navy yard. It is the intention of the publisher to send the publication to Washington for distribution so that everyone at the National Capitol can become better acquainted with the merits of the Portsmouth navy yard.

TRAIN PLUNGES THROUGH TRESTLE

Twenty Soldiers are Killed and Over
One Hundred Frightfully Hurt
When Seven Passenger
Coaches Leave Rail

Meriden, Miss., Oct. 19.—Twenty soldiers were killed and about 100 injured when a special troop train on the Mobile and Ohio railroad plunged through a trestle near State Line, Miss., this afternoon. This casualty list is given in a report of the disaster by Division Superintendent Pigford of the Mobile and Ohio, sent to headquarters of the road in Mobile.

Reports from the scene of the wreck are meagre, because of interrupted wire communication. Most of the dead and injured, it is reported, were started to Mobile on a special train and another relief train was headed toward this city.

An official report sent to the war department at Washington by one of the army officers on the train said an officer was killed or seriously hurt.

The Dead.

According to an unofficial report received here, the dead are:
Joseph Teben.
Ernest Parquette.
Clyde Teel.
H. B. Bishop.
G. B. Burleson.
Joseph Provance.
W. H. Brim.
Gordon.
Rosen.
Gruckie.
Arona.
Captain Johnson, of the 8th Regiment.
Corporal Kohler.
Corporal Chelawski.
Van Stetling, private.
One body unidentified.
One body unidentified with initials "H. T." on cap.
The coaches were all filled and when the three cars plunged the injured were entangled in a twisted mass of wreckage, making it difficult to remove dead bodies or rescue injured.

All were members of Company 39, Coast Artillery, U. S. A.

It is believed the wreck was caused by the engine plunging through a trestle, but some meagre accounts are that the tender jumped the track and lost several cars piled on top of it. So far as known the wreckage did not catch fire.

The 49th and 17th companies of the Coast Artillery stationed at Port Morgan were taken to Mobile this morning and at noon boarded the special. Mobile & Ohio train bound for Meriden, where the soldiers were to participate in a state fair. On the train were 179 officers and men.

Relief trains carrying physicians and nurses were sent from Mobile, Meridian and Whistler, Ala.

The wreck was caused by the engine tender jumping the track when about 100 feet from a trestle. The engine was not derailed and passed over the trestle. The tender broke loose from the engine, however, and with the baggage car and three coaches, plunged 25 feet to the ground.

At 7 o'clock 16 bodies had been taken from the wreckage and Superintendent Pigford said he was sure four more bodies were in the debris, which will not be cleared away for twenty-four hours.

MRS. PANKHURST IS RELEASED BY PRESIDENT

Who Reverses Decision of the Immigration Authorities at New York.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette who has been detained at the immigration detention station on Ellis Island, New York, since her arrival on Saturday, will not be deported. This morning President Wilson, to whom was referred her case, ordered that she be released, which reverses the decision of the immigration authorities.

Yesterday Mrs. Pankhurst, while talking with Mrs. Harriet Stanton Black and several other women said that if she was deported, the ship taking her back would carry her to her death, who said that in view of the fact that her system has been undermined by six hunger strikes in prisons abroad, she did not believe she would be able to survive a seventh. The order of the president will allow Mrs. Pankhurst to make her tour of the country as originally planned.

BIG TERMINAL IN FIRE PATH

St. Louis Railroad District Is Threatened With Destruction—Damage Is Great.

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—The entire railroad terminal of East St. Louis, said to be the largest in the United States, were threatened with destruction by a fire which began on the bank of the Mississippi river tonight and rapidly spread in three directions. The damage is believed to amount to several hundred thousand dollars already.

At 11 the fire was raging on the property of the Advance Grain company, the Chicago & Alton freight house, the Baltimore & Ohio freight house and in the car-filled railroad yards.

Shortly before midnight the elevator of the Advance Grain Company, where the fire is believed to have originally started, collapsed, part of the burning debris sliding into the river.

The fire spread to the Clover Leaf warehouse and the business section of East St. Louis. All telephone and telegraph wires in the vicinity are down.

Sheriff Ceylon Spinney went to Boston today for the purpose of arresting Wilfred Langley. Langley is wanted by the Rockingham County authorities for his escape from the Exeter jail over two years ago when he was serving a sentence for a statutory offense. He has just completed a term at Deer Island, Boston harbor, and will go into the hands of the sheriff on his release today.

FIRE OUT AT LAST.

Swamp Land Has Been Burning Steadily Since Aug. 10.

The rain certainly brought relief in dousing out the swamp fire close to the railroad track near the Battlefield road. Ever since August 10 this fire has been burning and has covered many acres. Time and time again the railroad and the owners of the land thought the rain would check it, but not till Sunday did it cease to smoke. It has resulted in much damage to the property and has been decidedly disagreeable to the residents of this city at night when the wind was right. It burned three feet under the surface and many attempts by the section hands of the railroad to extinguish it were useless.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 19.—The letter to Secretary of State Bryan, in which Henry Lane Wilson tendered his resignation as American ambassador to Mexico, was made public here today by Mr. Wilson. The letter was written in Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28. In part, Mr. Wilson wrote:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of Aug. 14 transmitting a copy of telegraphic instruction of the department of state to the American ambassador in London, directing him to disclaim all responsibility on the part of this government for an interview attributed to me. The closing paragraph of the instruction states that the President regrets exceedingly that a diplomatic official of this government should have been guilty of such an impropriety. ## PORTSMOUTH TRAIN KILLS MAN

James Dearborn Struck by Locomotive on the Track at Raymond

James Dearborn, aged 65 years, a resident of Raymond, was killed by the Concord and Portsmouth train arriving here at 4:22 on Saturday night. He was engaged in removing some old railroad ties just north of the depot and had a wagon backed up near the track. As the train came along he walked out from behind the wagon on the fireman's side and the locomotive struck him before the engineer could check the speed. Conductor Powell hurried to the depot to summon medical aid while baggage master Whiting and others of the train picked up the unfortunate man. Before the doctor arrived he died. He was a life long resident of the town and leaves a daughter.

COAL SELLING CHEAP IN DOVER

Twenty-Five Cents Less than Portsmouth and Other Cities of State

Take a look at your coal bill and then read this from the Dover Democrat.

The coal situation in Dover at present is far more pleasing than in many of the surrounding cities and towns, and is a most emphatic improvement over the condition at this time of the season last year. Few persons realize that the prices in Dover at present are considerably better than in many of the principal cities of the state and the Dover consumer is able to get more for his money than for years past.

The many apparently unjust, unreliable and erroneous statements which are being circulated about the city of the exorbitant dividends which the local coal dealers are realizing from all sales at present are without foundation, and in the opinion of the coal men are being made by persons who have not taken sufficient interest to make inquiries into the situation and are talking at random.

According to the story as told by many of the local dealers there is plenty of nut, egg and stove coal for sale in Dover at present for $7.75 a ton, while in many cities in the immediate vicinity $8 and even more is being charged. One man advised the reporter that the Portsmouth dealers who had the advantage of better facilities for handling the product, and the advantage also of having coal unloaded from the boats to their warehouses were taking their customers even more than are the local dealers. In Lynn, Haverhill, Lawrence and Lowell of the Massachusetts cities, and Nashua, Portsmouth, Laconia and other cities of this state the prices are in excess of the demands of the local dealers.

At a corresponding time last year in this city the consumer was obliged to pay as high as $9-a ton, and even at those figures was unable to get a high grade of material, and the supply was also limited.

It seems probable that the supply will be somewhat limited later in consideration of advice from the mines, but it is not anticipated that the present price will be greatly increased. It is hard to understand how this coal can be unloaded at Portsmouth, shipped by rail to Dover and sold for 25 cents less than Portsmouth consumers are obliged to pay. It has never been explained and the people of this city might find a little consolation in being informed just how the cities of Somersworth and Dover have for several years sold coal cheaper than Portsmouth dealers.

CARDINAL GIVES HEARTY WELCOME

Catholic Extension Society
Opens Its Second Missionary Congress.

Boston, Oct. 19.—Prelates, priests, and other delegates from nearly every Catholic diocese on the continent attended the solemn pontifical mass this morning, which opened the second missionary congress of the Catholic Extension Society of America.

The congress will be in session the next three days, during which 27 phases of the work in this country will be discussed, while the work of the foreign missionary field will also be considered.

Cardinal O'Connell, welcomed the visiting archbishops, bishops, monsignors, priests and lay delegates in a sermon at the mass, at which Archbishop John Bonzano of Washington, the papal delegates to the United States, pontificated. It was one of the most brilliant ecclesiastical functions ever held in an American city.

Six archbishops and nearly three score bishops and bishops from all parts of the United States and Canada participated, and there were a score or more of monsignors. More than 200 priests of the Boston diocese and visiting clergy took part in the procession which preceded the mass. In his sermon Cardinal O'Connell reviewed briefly the work of the Extension Society in spreading the doctrines of Catholicism through remote parts of the country.

During the congress there will be two sessions daily, at which clergy and laymen will speak on foreign and home missions, immigration and colonial work and suggest solutions of many missionary problems.

Brief lectures will be given in the interval between the regular sessions. On Tuesday there will be a meeting of the Women's auxiliary.

Over 3000 members of the organization registered today.

QUESTIONS THE GOVERNOR'S COURSE

Concord, N. H., Oct. 19.—A supplementary brief on behalf of Harry K. Thaw was filed by his counsel with Governor Samuel D. Feltner Saturday afternoon.

"It has now been nearly six weeks," say the brief, "that Thaw has been detained under arrest on a patently defective regulation petition, illegitimately supported by the allegation of an indictment which never existed and during that time no indictment has been obtained."

"We therefore respectfully submit that it is the duty of the governor of New Hampshire to now refuse the requisition of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw."

Draw, Shumlin, Morrill, & Oakes and Martin & How of counsel for Thaw are the authors of the document. In opening the brief they say: Since the beginning of these proceedings a vital question has been whether the requisition for Thaw's extradition is made in good faith. The practical form which this question takes is whether the state of New York demands the return of Thaw for the purpose of trying him for conspiracy or for the purpose of recommitting him to Mattewan State Hospital for the insane. If the latter purpose is that which actuates New York it is illegitimate, and for the governor of New Hampshire to honor the requisition would be illegal.

The facts as to the attempt to indict Thaw are as follows, continues the brief:

"September 19, the evidence on which it was sought to indict Thaw and the five other alleged conspirators was presented to the grand jury voted to not separately on the Thaw case. There were 17 members of the grand jury present. A vote was taken and there were 10 for an indictment, five against an indictment and two did not vote."

"Mr. Conger, the district attorney, then advised the grand jury that a majority of the votes was sufficient to indict. The next day Sept. 19, it was voted to reconsider the indictment of Thaw, and on reconsideration it was voted by 12 members of the jury not to indict. The grand jury then brought in a verdict of 'no bill'."

"Then it was voted to again reconsider. The grand jury then adjourned to Sept. 22, and adjourned from Sept. 22 to Oct. 6 and on which day the court adjourned and the jury was discharged."

"By reference to section 249 of the New York Code of Criminal Procedure it will be seen that no indictment was found by the first jury there being but 10 jurors who voted to indict, whereas the code requires that at least 12 grand jurors vote to indict."

"It is therefore perfectly clear that the indictment for conspiracy has been found against Thaw in New York. The records of the grand jury are presumably open to Mr. Jerome and Mr. Conger and they know, or should know, the requirements of section 249 of the code of criminal procedure."

"It is open to the governor of New Hampshire to make due inquiry whether Thaw was indicted in New York, and when the facts are ascertained due weight should be given in considering the vital question of the good faith of New York to the fact that up to the present time there has never been an indictment for conspiracy against Thaw in New York."

BEECH WOOD A VALUABLE FACTOR

In this country beech is the favorite material for wooden shoes, the manufacture of which has reached considerable proportions in the United States according to the department of agriculture, which has just issued a bulletin on the use of the wood. These shoes, the department says, cost from 60 to 75 cents a pair and are good for two years. They are worn by those who have to work in cold or wet places, such as tanneries, breweries and dairy stables, and by workmen in steel mills and glass factories who must walk on hot grates or floors. Farmers, too, are classed among the users.

Beech wood is put to a very much wider range of uses than the average person would be likely to suspect. The department says beech enters into hundreds of articles from household necessities to machinery blocks. We walk on beech floors, eat off beech plates, carry beech baskets, play with beech toys, sit on beech chairs, and in dozens of other ways use articles made of beech almost every day of our lives. Its freedom from taste fits the wood almost especially for articles which come in contact with foodstuffs, such as meat, butter, sugar, soap, and so on.

Only one species of beech grows naturally in the United States, but few trees have a wider commercial range. It extends from the Gulf of Mexico to eastern Canada, and in Mexico into southern Canada and in Mexico into southern Canada and in Mexico into southern Canada and in Mexico into southern Canada.

The first social of the fall and winter at the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening, and a program of music and speakers has been arranged by Secretary Parker.

Mr. Merrow, president of the state work and Mr. Watson secretary of the state work, will make short addresses on what is being done in the state. The Maunio Quartette will render a musical program, and their will be refreshments.

Boulder Marking Spot Where General Washington Landed in 1780 Dedicated Sunday.

Amesbury, Mass., Oct. 19.—On the site of the ferry landing on Main street a Boulder marking the spot where General George Washington landed in October, 1780, during a visit to the town was dedicated today.

The event which is to be given under the auspices of the Josiah Bartlett Chapter D. R. was attended by high officials of that organization from far and wide. These visitors were entertained at lunch in the famous old Mary Cobb's house at noon.

Miss Anna Merrill unveiled the tablet. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Merrill of the For-expression, laughing wrinkles, as they are called, in reality add years to one's appearance, so there is no need to fear massage will take away the expression of the face.

The little vertical lines that so quickly appear between the eyes as a result of squinting or that are often assumed in deep thought, give one a fierce rat-like expression, and only by the greatest care can the habit be overcome.

Another wrinkle maker is the habit of lifting the eyebrows. They line grow, and deepen just above the eyes and great furrows soon mar the beauty of the forehead.

There are some lotions that are said to prevent and others to erase wrinkles and which if not entirely efficacious, are harmless.

One of the preventives is made as follows: Boil three ounces of pear barley in a pint of water till the gluten is extracted. Strain, add thirty drops of linseed oil and use as a face wash at night and morning.

If the wrinkles have shown themselves bath the face in a solution of six grains of alum dissolved in six ounces of rosewater, and pour gently into one and one-half ounces of almond milk, stirring all the while.

Exercise is a splendid skin tonic. A brisk walk, no matter if in the rain, will freshen the complexion, even as it freshens the flowers, and a simple apartment will go wonders for a muddy skin. It remains for all women to preserve such beauty as they have and to cure the defects which are peculiar to them or that time has wrought.

River skin is different and must be treated accordingly and it takes a reasonable woman to experiment carefully and find out the proper method of treatment for the skin.

Lack of sleep ages a woman possibly more than anything else. Most women who are inclined to be nervous, require from eight to nine hours. Six or seven hours of rest suffices for others. The hours before midnight contain the magic wherein beauty is dispensed freely. One hour before 12 will do more good than two afterward.

Sleep without a pillow if possible, or a very small one of couch size. The feet should be higher than the head. This makes the flow of blood over the heart, even. Sleep on your right side, with the limbs outstretched, and the arms down at the side rather than over the head, which it is said encourages bad dreams.

WHERE THEY KEEP WHISKEY IN MAINE
Portland, Oct. 19.—A loose brick in the cellar wall and a long pipe leading to a whiskey barrel buried about four feet under a cement sidewalk constituted the principal part of a clever hide which the liquor agents discovered this forenoon when making a search of the Malone drug store at 30 Washington avenue.

Up to this afternoon the officers had not determined how much whiskey was in the barrel or just how the barrel was to be taken out, although they planned unless information was given regarding the arrangements, to tear up the walk and excavate the barrel.

In connection with the and Thomas J. Malone, the proprietor of the store, was arrested on the charge of unlawful possession, and gave bail before Commissioner Henry Cleaves Sullivan for his appearance in the municipal court Monday morning.

WILL HELP TO MAKE CLEANER POLITICS

(Washington, Oct. 19.—The first direct results of the Congressional investigation of campaign expenditures came when the senate passed Senator Champ's bill prohibiting the sending of campaign funds from one state to another.

If the house approves the measure it will put a rigid limitation not only upon the activities of general political interests, but also, upon the work of such organizations as the National Association of Manufacturers, the American Federation of Labor and the National Association for Woman Suffrage.

The bill prohibits the carrying or sending of funds from one state to another, to be used in the election of President, Vice President, Presidential Electors of Congressmen. The senate passed the bill today without debate. In previous discussions it was made clear that its purpose was to prevent the financing of campaigns in a secret manner by organizations or individuals who did not come under the campaign publicity laws.

The proposed new law would not prohibit the present work of National political committees, so long as they make public reports of all contributions, received and expenditures. Practically all the National committees send contributions to the state committees of their parties during a National election.

It is believed the measure would curtail belittling of campaign funds in money centers and greatly curb general campaign activities on the part of persons or organizations that might be indirectly interested in the outcome of elections.

A further amendment of campaign contributions laws was proposed today by Senator Sterling in a bill to prevent all corporations from contributing to campaigns for nomination as they are now prohibited from contributing to election campaigns.

PREFERS TANGO TO BRIDGE WHIST

So Says Mary S. Lockwood of Daughters of American Revolution

The tango, if danced properly, is of the most beautiful of dances, according to Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, one of the founders of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who spoke at a meeting of the Woman's National Press Association, at Washington, Mrs. Lockwood added, however, that the dance has been degraded by the suggestive manner in which it is often used.

Mrs. Lockwood said she would gladly welcome dancing among the amusements of society if it would tend to eliminate bridge whist playing, which she said was being carried on from morning to night in some of the best social circles. Mrs. Lockwood's statement followed a comment by Mrs. H. Frank Brown of Chicago that the regulation of dancing was one of the most important duties confronting mothers.

The association adopted a resolution urging Congress to purchase Belmont, the old Barber estate, for use as a public park, and decided that a committee of 100 women present the resolution to Congress.

Mrs. William Oscar Roome presided at the meeting, and Mrs. Belva Lockwood spoke of her recent trip abroad. Others who spoke were Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of the District; Mrs. Duth M. Griswold Pealer, Mrs. Leigh Chalmers and Miss Grace Pierce.

DOVER ELKS DEDICATE LOT

One Thousand Persons Witness Ceremony at Pine Hill Cemetery on Sunday.

Dover, Oct. 19.—In the presence of nearly 1000 people and with fitting ceremony Dover Lodge of Elks this afternoon dedicated "Elks Rest," its new burial lot in Pine Hill cemetery, and the beautiful bronze and granite monument just erected upon it.

The march to the cemetery was headed by the Somersworth City Band, Chasley Drew leader. Tiller James P. McAdam was marshal. There were 250 Elks in line, the officers appearing in their regalia. At the head came eight large turlow cars containing veteran members and the wives and daughters of Elks.

The dedication ceremony from the ritual was performed by the officers of the lodge. This was followed by the official proclamation of the acceptance of "Elks Rest" on behalf of the New Hampshire Grand lodge by P. D. D. Ernest L. Chaney of Portsmouth, acting for D. D. Thomas F. Moran.

The monument was unveiled by Miss Marie T. Sullivan, aged 14, daughter of Dr. M. B. Sullivan, the first exalted ruler of Dover Lodge. "The Vagant Chant" was sung by George J. Wright, the band accompanying him. Fred E. Quimby, P. E. R., of Dover Lodge made an impressive dedicatory oration. After a band selection the closing exercises were held, concluding with the singing of the lodge ode.

Elks Rest was purchased in September, 1911, immediately after the death of a member, William Gardner, formerly of Boston, who was buried there. This is the only burial, so far, upon the lot.

The monument committee consisted of Carlton A. Newton, Joseph F. Cassidy, Fred D. McKone, Harold L. Seavey, Maj. Frank H. Keenan and William K. Chadwick.

NEW CASTLE

Lowering skies and a Scotch mist kept many from venturing far from home on Sunday. Many are complaining about the "spell of weather." Only a few weeks ago they were deploring the drought and now they are willing over the weather's teary mood. We are rarely contented with what is. Everything this year is in the superlative degree. All weather records are being smashed and all high water marks are being washed away.

There will be no vacant seats at Pythian hall Tuesday evening, for two reasons. One of these is the fast moving, high grade of entertainment and the other is that when the Daily Circle of King's Daughters announces the date of their annual harvest supper a large patronage is assured as the society has an established reputation for serving excellent feasts. Gupilli's orchestra will discourse popular music during the supper hours.

Mrs. Anna Taule and little daughter, Sedonia, have returned from a two-weeks' sojourn with relatives in Lawrence.

Mrs. George Randall is visiting her son in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dearborn of Portsmouth passed the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Elias Tarlton.

Letters from Mr. Zetta Ernest, who is sojourning at his home in Laurel, Indiana, bear the good news that he is almost restored to his former good health.

Mrs. John Decaff, who has been the guest of William Tarlton, has returned to her home in Boston.

Mrs. Vesta Akerman and daughter Louise have returned from a several weeks' sojourn in Portland.

Quite a number of planning to hear Sousa's famous band at Music Hall next Friday afternoon.

Everybody is glad that Capt. Lindmy has put the Queen City on the route again. It is so warm and "comfy" for the winter use.

Captain Reed of the government steamboat Morrison, and wife, are comfortably installed in the Poole tenement.

OLD-TIME GIANT OF ADVERTISERS

A good many people here, as in the rest of the country, rubbed their eyes yesterday and harked back a score of years when they read the newspapers, for yesterday, for the first time in many years, the one-time familiar legend, St. Jacob's Oil Conqueror Pain, stared them in the face as it did long ago.

Time was when the center of the advertising stage was occupied by the St. Jacob's Oil people. That was before advertising was developed to its present extent and the projector of what grew to be the best known family liniment in the world had the field of really big and liberal publicity to themselves.

"St. Jacob's Oil rubs away Rheumatism, Pain, Backache, Neuralgia, Sprain, etc." greeted one everywhere the eye rested, and in a few years the publicity, backed by the intrinsic worth of the preparation, brought a business of about two millions dollars a year that has survived ever since, years after the advertising campaign had been completed.

The proprietors, it seems, have decided to place their product before the present generation as they did before the last, and, in pursuance of this policy, "flashed" on the public again the old familiar announcements of a score of years ago.

It merely proves a good article, backed with proper advertising, never succumbs.

MRS. PANKHURST ORDERED DEPORTED

Case Appealed to Washington Officials--Will Be Decided Today.

New York, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, foremost of English militant suffragettes, who reached America today on the liner Providence to appeal for the sympathy and support of the American people in the Revolution for which she is fighting, she is a prisoner at Ellis Island under an order of deportation, awaiting the issue of an appeal to Washington that will probably be decided by Monday.

The question of time in releasing Mrs. Pankhurst, Sunday or Monday, on a possible order from Washington turns on whether there will be a hearing or not. Immigration experts explain that while the commissioner and the secretary of labor may act on the papers, if no decision on a Sunday, there is no precedent for a hearing on Sunday, which would put any order on Mrs. Pankhurst's case at the earliest.

With Miss Ethel Childs Dorr, another of the arriving English militant, who was voluntarily detained, she might be with her leader, Mrs. Pankhurst, occupies the two rooms in the administration building. While preventing an appearance of her in the rooms are comfortably furnished and are the best in the building.

They are the ones in which Cipriano Castro, ex-Venezuelan dictator, was detained while his case was pending.

From the broad windows overlooking the harbor Mrs. Pankhurst can view the statue of Liberty.

Proceedings for Release

Mrs. Pankhurst was detained by an immigration inspector on her arrival here and was at once taken before a special board of inquiry which, after examining her, decided that because she had been convicted for acts involving moral turpitude she was an undesirable alien. The board therefore ordered her exclusion.

An appeal was immediately entered and Immigration Commissioner Charles H. May heard argument on her case Monday in Washington. Mrs. Pankhurst's representatives have expressed confidence that whatever might be done about the appeal the English militant would be released under bond for three weeks so that she might fill her speaking engagements here.

Hunger Strike Started

Because of the uncertainties surrounding the immediate course of the proceedings in her case the militant at Madison Square Garden set for Sunday at which Mrs. Pankhurst was to speak, was today postponed until Monday night.

Mrs. Pankhurst herself seemed to have little doubt that she would be freed in time to speak at that meeting and to carry her message in all completeness to the people of this country.

She was on the point of starting a hunger strike when she heard that the order of deportation was lifted. But on learning that a speedy decision of the appeal was probable she broke fast and swallowed with evident relief a chicken sandwich and a pot of tea which she had requested.

"I am confident that whatever happens it will be good for the cause in which I am interested," she said. "I have great faith in the sense of justice and fair play of the American people, and I know they will give me a chance to defend the movement which has been so misrepresented. There is no doubt but that my detention is unjust."

PAPERS IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Oct. 19.—Commissioner

General of Immigration Cammeltt tonight received the papers in the record of the hearing of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst by the Board of Special Inquiry at Ellis Island. Commissioner Cammeltt had directed the Ellis Island authorities to forward the papers by mail, as is usual in such cases, but had directed also that they be expedited as much as possible.

Today the Commissioner and Acting Secretary of Labor Post took the record for consideration, but the commissioner said last night he had no intention of holding a formal hearing on the case on Sunday.

"Such a proceeding would involve the holding open not only of the Bureau of Immigration Station at Ellis Island and would be quite unprecedented."

It appears scarcely likely that final decision of the case will be announced before Monday.

RAILROAD MEN ASK GOVERNMENT FOR BETTER PAY

Postmaster General Burleson is told that carriers get nothing for transporting parcels.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Postmaster General Burleson had a conference late on Friday with a delegation of American railway presidents who ask better pay for transporting mail.

President Hapley of the Santa Fe acted as spokesman for his associates being seconded by President Rea of the Pennsylvania. They indicated that the railways now were being underpaid, receiving about $15,000,000 for carrying the mail. For the past year they declared they practically were receiving nothing.

President Hapley conceded that the roads were obliged to carry the mail but expressed that the postmaster general would give them such pay as would enable them to perform their service satisfactorily.

Mr. Burleson assured the railway officials that he would try and see to it that they would receive what they were entitled to. He said, however, that it would be impossible for him to do anything in the way of readjusting railway mail until the committee created by congress for collecting and tabulating data bearing upon the subject had made its report, probably March, next.

The postmaster general said it was his intention further to extend the facilities of the parcel post system, both by increasing the present maximum weight limit and by reducing the rates.

COUNT FIFTY! NO RHEUMATIC PAIN

Rub pain away with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil"

Stop "aching" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" conquers pain. It is a harmless local rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, lameness and lumps; drops swollen, lumbago, backache, neuritis and reduces swelling.

"Lumber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest 'St. Jacobs Oil' from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness."

The K. E. G. Honey Work club was pleasantly entertained on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Thurston Patch.

Early Saturday morning the tug Mitchell Davis went alongside the tug schooner John A. Buckman and brought her steam pump to work.

Pumping was continued until high tide at one p. m., but in spite of it the water steadily rose in the vessel. The tug schooner made a number of attempts to start her, but was unsuccessful. Sunday morning both tugs went at it again, and with the help of a third tug, the Portsmouth, the schooner was pulled from her berth at Fishers' wharf, and anchored in Peabody's Cove, full of water, but kept afloat by her large cargo of laths. She will be towed to Boston at the first favorable opportunity. A schooner with a cargo of coal is now on her way here for Fishers' Brothers, and the chances were good for a legal pickup by she arrived and found the berth occupied by the tug schooner "Becker."

WANTS TO SUCCEED CHIEF HEALEY

Manchester, Oct. 19.—According to gossip of the streets opponents of Chief of Police M. J. Healey have not given up the fight and they still have hopes of getting his scalp. Their latest candidate according to rumor abroad, is William T. Nichols, Manchester newspaperman, formerly managing editor of the Union in the days of Gordon Woodbury, and who edited the "Democratic press" in the Union during the campaign a year ago. It is said that the opponents of Chief Healey have entered upon Nichols as a man who they think will be able to give the chief a run for the place. Nichols has been one of the candidates mentioned for the Manchester postoffice.

It is being stated that one of the things that brought Congressman Eugene R. Reed home was to take a hand in the police matter, and it is also thought that after the governor reviewed the Columbus Day parade, the congressman took him down to his office in Patten's block, and had a pretty plain and straight talk with him, and it is rumored that he was most emphatic to the governor relative not only to this police matter, but also of the way the administration had done things in general in New Hampshire.

It is being quietly whispered that Mr. Reed's trip home was to try and get Governor Feltner to take care of Nichols with this belly, and that he would then be able to kill two birds with one stone, as it would get the latter out of a possible mixup in the post office matter.

Mr. Nichols neither denies nor affirms that he is a receptive candidate for chief of police.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. The result was lasting."—Hon. John B. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

Reviews His Long Service.

Mr. Wilson next reviews his 17 years of diplomatic service, saying an investigation of his work will show that it was in the highest degree useful in humanitarian, commercial and political ways, and that the records of the state department bear ample evidence in the general satisfaction which his efforts won. He refused the ambassadorship to Russia, Austria and Turkey, he said, because of lack of finances and went to Mexico, appreciating that he had a hard task before him.

"I gave my whole time and my health," he adds, "and denied myself the privilege which all men consider sacred, of performing the last office at the bedside of my beloved mother and my only brother."

He worked daily from 6 in the morning to midnight or later and often on Sunday, he says, but "never missed in the slightest degree in the plans of Mexico."

GIVES LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

states that "the President does not go further at this time because he takes it for granted that the action which he has been obliged to take in this matter will be to you a sufficient reminder of your official obligations."

Mr. Wilson calls attention to a memorandum of his dated Aug. 18, agreeing to refrain from public comment on the instruction to the ambassador in London or the note to himself, but adds that he "must respectfully decline to accept as definitive or just the action of the President or the department over which you preside in this matter."

Makes Earnest Protest.

"There is," he writes, "a just limit to patient silence, and I shall not permit myself to be made the victim of a hasty and unconsidered action without placing on record with you my earnest and solemn protest."

Mr. Wilson then reviews the circumstances leading up to the instruction to the ambassador in London. A London dispatch was published in this country on Aug. 11 stating that one of the factors determining British recognition of the Mexican provisional government was the "congratulatory speech of the American ambassador on the occasion of Huerta's reception to the diplomatic corps."

Mr. Wilson says he did not believe this came from an official British source and had decided to maintain an attitude of reserve, until the next two days, he read in the press articles "evidently inspired from administrative sources containing expression of gratification over the supposed prophylactic legislation" of the British government.

First Evidence of Publicity.

"It seemed apparent to me that this was the first evidence of your intention to publicly question my official acts," he continues, "and I accordingly gave to the press the interview referred to."

The interview, he declared, could not possibly be construed as an expression of the views of this government, as Mr. Bryan already had announced Mr. Wilson's voluntary resignation, he continued.

"Thereupon with tempestuous haste and apparently prompted by partisan zeal, you dispatched an instruction to the American ambassador in London, directing him to apologize for language uttered by me which was not in the least degree offensive, and which was based entirely upon the assumption that the supposed expression of the British government was a malicious imputation. You thus hastily proceeded without ascertaining whether either the supposed expressions by the British government or my comment thereon was verifiable, and as it has since been developed, your action caused the greatest possible surprise to the government of Great Britain, which did not know it had been offended and had no official knowledge of the views attributed to it."

"Thus, through blame, you have repeatedly and unjustly discriminated a diplomatic officer of his government and at the same time have exposed to the British foreign office the spirit of hazardous adventure which presides over the department of state and the possibility of errors at any moment in future diplomatic exchanges."

"That the President of the United States, whom I know to possess high and patriotic ideals and whose lofty purpose might never to be questioned by any American citizen, should lend himself to the hasty criticism of an old and tried official of the government, upon totally unwarrented and once discredited sources of information, motivated me that he has been badly advised; and that you, Mr. Secretary, who have been identified with the movement for better and higher things in this country, should, except as the result of investigation and calm consideration, find reason for the seizure of a plain and truthful statement of fact which had to do solely with matters that are of record in the records of all foreign officers with representatives accredited to Mexico, by assuming an attitude which involves the correctness of the official procedure of a diplomatic officer under your control, inspires me with serious doubts as to your future success in dealings with delicate international affairs."

Reviews His Long Service.

Mr. Wilson next reviews his 17 years of diplomatic service, saying an investigation of his work will show that it was in the highest degree useful in humanitarian, commercial and political ways, and that the records of the state department bear ample evidence in the general satisfaction which his efforts won. He refused the ambassadorship to Russia, Austria and Turkey, he said, because of lack of finances and went to Mexico, appreciating that he had a hard task before him.

"I gave my whole time and my health," he adds, "and denied myself the privilege which all men consider sacred, of performing the last office at the bedside of my beloved mother and my only brother."

He worked daily from 6 in the morning to midnight or later and often on Sunday, he says, but "never missed in the slightest degree in the plans of Mexico."

Friendly With Madero.

He maintained a policy of friendly co-operation with the Madero administration, he says, until "finding that no intention existed of righting American wrongs, I ceased to make representations to it except in urgent cases involving the loss of life or property. You, Mr. Secretary, gave an expression to my lack of faith in the government, except to the state department, and never abated by the least my friendly relation with that government."

"My relations with the provisional president were brought about by the stress of circumstances," he says, adding that his dealings with Huerta and Felix Diaz were solely to save human life and avert intolerable conditions in Mexico City. His course, he declared, "earnestly mitigated the horrors and sufferings of that terrible situation," and was endorsed by all diplomats, foreign colonies and religious organizations in Mexico.

"Assumption Was at Variance."

"The assumption that he was at that time intruding into the politics of Mexico," writes Mr. Wilson, "was at variance with the belief and testimony of all living eye-witnesses and against the record on file at the state department." His formal resignation on March 4 was not accepted, but subsequently, he remarks, "public statements that he administration was investigating the situation through unofficial sources, repeated with disagreeable frequency, affected my official usefulness." He asked Mr. Bryan for a denial "and receiving none, I again requested you to urge the acceptance of my resignation. In reply you clearly indicated your desire that I should remain at my post."

Meanwhile, he says, the attitude of the Mexican government toward reorganization became such that he wired for information regarding this country's policy. "After a long delay," he comments, "you telegraphed me, in the President's name, announcing a policy so startling in character and so at variance with the established traditions and policy of this government for 180 years, that I abandoned all further hope of bringing about a restoration of amicable relations."

Takes Up Sudden Recall.

Mr. Wilson takes up next the circumstances of his sudden recall to Washington July 22 and the chain of events in Washington centering about his return. He complains that he was told that his return was to be for consultation and that he left without time to adjust his personal affairs, at considerable expense to himself. He came to the conclusion that he was going to be removed from office, he says, because of Mr. Bryan's attitude towards him.

"I realized," he says, "that I had been called home, not for orders, consultation or instruction, but for sentence and humiliation."

In conclusion, Mr. Wilson observes that he feels his removal "might at least have been kinder in spirit, more generous and more considerate." The President's policy toward Mexico, he brands as "indifferent and drifting," and expresses the fear that it will develop greater hatred of Americans in Latin-American and eventually may lead to intervention.

In having spoken thus frankly, he says he has been motivated by the public good and the interests of justice and not through bitterness, or any desire to "embarrass the President's policy in Mexico."

MOORE'S PAPER

KEEPS UP ATTACK.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18.—Unchecked by the arrest of Alexander P. Moore, the editor-in-chief, the leader appeared yesterday with another editorial, broadside aimed at the Oliver-Penrose forces.

Editor Moore, who is the husband of Edith Russell, was dragged from bed at 1 o'clock in the morning on a charge of libel made by Joseph G. Armstrong, the Oliver-Penrose candidate for mayor, and held under $5000 bail.

The name of Congressman John S. Norton appeared on the list of those under bail today. He is charged with hindering constables who went to arrest Moore.

PORTSMOUTH DOG AMONG THE WINNERS

Barre, Oct. 19.—The Brunswick Foxhound Club finished its 25th Annual Field Trials at Barre, following a successful week of fox hunting. Edson P. Starks, Kirk Philip, from Dorset, Vt., won the honors today in the all-age stake. When Mr. Starks returned home tonight he took with him six silver cups, each of which signified excellently field work on the part of his hound, King Philip.

King Philip won the Hitchcock U. S. Championship Cup, the Pope Memorial Cup and the Brunswick Champion Foxhound Cup for general excellence in field work. In addition he won the Emory Hunting Cup, the Whiting Trailing Cup and the Bowditch Speed and Driving Cup.

Burt, owned by B. P. Williamson, of Green Harbor, won the Endurance Cup and second in the trailing contest. Miss Rita Talbot of Kennebunkport, Me., won the Tonguing Cup and third place in the training class through the good work of her hound Stress.

Dr. A. C. Hoffenger's Prompter, from Portsmouth, N. H., won second place in the endurance and hunting trials and William F. Welch's Foxey, from Framingham, won third place in the hunting class and second place in the tongueing class. Otis Daniel's Blaze, from Tilton, N. H., took second place in the speed and driving class, and A. V. Huyler's Oatme of New York won third. Calbe Calson won third in the tongueing class.

The derby races held Monday and Tuesday, were successful from all points of view and the trials were fairly won by George Travis Hunt, from Worcester, N. Y.

The all-age stake opened Wednesday, and although there was good fox driving, the hounds were bothered by deer. The same thing occurred Thursday and Friday, the hunters experiencing worse luck when the dogs ran into a flock of sheep.

Saturday was the salvation of the all-ages trials. The dogs were cast off at the Rogers Place. In about two minutes two foxes were on the jump. The main pack drove a fox into the Morse Brook Swamp and circled around in the neighboring hills, and back into the swamp.

The other hunt was smaller and a few dogs ran a fox south to the Hills place and through the pasture land. The drive lasted for a couple of hours with occasional checks.

At about 8 o'clock the main pack of hounds got on the track of a deer and there was a fast drive toward Wheelwright. The previous good work of the dogs however, enabled the judges to score them well and the hunt was called off.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs" to Clean the Bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, bad breath, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's use; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

FIFTEEN INJURED WHEN TRAIN LEAVES RAIL

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—Fifteen persons were injured, two perhaps fatally when the "midnight special" of the Chicago & Alton railroad, bound from Chicago to St. Louis, was wrecked at Alton, Ill., early this morning.

The lives of 33 other passengers in all probability, were saved by a steel cable bracing a telegraph pole which caught the chandelier and prevented it from overturning. The car was left standing on end and all its occupants were hurled in a mass to the floor.

The wreck is believed to have been caused by speeding rails. All the coaches left the tracks and the 192 passengers were badly shaken up and bruised.

Will Inquire as to Fraud.

By direction of the Secretary of the navy, an inquiry has been ordered at the Newport naval station of a reported offer to sell questions in the examination for assistant paymaster, said to have been made by an enlisted man to a prospective candidate for the examination. According to a preliminary report received the enlisted man who offered to sell the questions had admitted that he did not possess a copy of the questions and that he made the offer in a spirit of fun to play a practical joke on one of the candidates who was preparing for the examination. The latter took the offer seriously and reported it to his commanding officer. Rear Admiral William H. Carpenter, who is in command of the station, has sent a report to the department, declaring that the questions did not become public before the examination was held and that there was no need of sending a new set of questions to the examining board. The examinations began last Tuesday and are still in progress.
